GHS 1992/93

CODING AND EDITING NOTES

INTRODUCTION

These notes cover the questionnaires used between April 1992 and March 1993 inclusive

These notes are intended to provide a guide to those General Household Survey coding procedures which are not self-evident from the question wording and layout. They also include coding frames, extra codes and any points of definition They are not an exhaustive description of all coding action The working document used by coders takes the form of fuller coding instructions which incorporate such items as codes for non-response and checks and applicability at some questions.

Some of the edit checks, denoted by EC in the notes, are incorporated in order to give a more detailed picture of editing at both the coding and computing stages

To facilitate the use of these notes the computing Master Schedule is interleaved so that, as far as possible, any relevant points are opposite the appropriate questions

In the computing edit DNA (does not apply) and NA (no answer) are treated as follows

all DNA codes are set to -9

all NA codes are set to -8, unless recoding has taken place either into existing precodes or specific NA codes

The treatment of NAs is indicated on the computing Master Schedule at each question as follows

No NAs - No answers are not allowed. Blanks are rejected and answers imputed

Specific NA codes - eg NA = 99 These codes are used at the coding stage and at the computing edit correction stage if omitted in error

NAs are included automatically in an existing precode - eg Don't know/NA = 3 The NA is written alongside the printed description of the precode and follows the same continuity

NAs are set to -8 where 'NA is written within the range of code numbers. The NA follows the same continuity as the codes next to it, eg Household Q6, both code 2 and NA (-8) go to Q7, or specific signposting is indicated, eg Tenure Q13, NAs (-8) go to Q32.

HOUSEHOLD SCHEDULE

REGION CODE	See next page (codes 01-27)
QUARTER NO	This indicates to which quarter of the year the selected address was assigned (range 1-4). The quarter does not necessarily indicate the months in which all the interviews took place, for example some addresses assigned to June, 1st Quarter, could have taken place in July
AREA NO	The area number represents the stratum number 001-576 main sample, 577-651 Scottish Supplementary (see next page).
SCOTLAND (M O)	This is a multi-occupancy indicator from the address list and is for Scotland only
HOUSEHOLD NO	There is a change in recording household number in 1992/93: one is used where there is only one household at the address (in previous years this was indicated by zero)

Scottish Supplementary Sample

The Coding Notes for the Household Schedule apply to similar questions on the Scottish Supplementary Sample

Note that caravans and houseboats are ineligible
Main job of HOH last week is coded as for Employment Q8
To facilitate computing, the information collected at Q44 is transfered to OFF USE C column of the household box, then Q44 is not punched.

HOUSEHOLD BOX

i. Person number

This is checked (1) against the line by line entries to ensure that a person number has been ringed for every household member, and (2) for those informants aged 16 and over, against the personal reference number shown in the top right hand corner of the Individual or Proxy Schedules.

ii. Outcome of Individual Interview/Type of Schedule

A code is entered in OFF USE A to indicate whether each eligible individual (ie those aged 16 or over) co-operated or not.

	SINGLE CODE
Fully co-operative (incl. some questions refused)	1
Eligible, but Proxy schedule completed	2
Eligible, but Non-contact or Refused	3

iii. Relationship to HOH

The definition which is used for Head of Household is that given in the Social Survey Handbook for interviewers, ie 'The Head of Household is, in order of precedence, the husband of the person or the person who either:

a. Owns the household accommodation;

b. Is legally responsible for the rent of the accommodation;

c. Has the household accommodation as an emolument or perquisite;

d. Has the household accommodation by virtue of some relationship to the owner in cases where the owner or lessee is not a member of the household.

Further instructions for establishing HOH (when, under the definition above, two people have equal claim) are given in the Handbook. Note that the HOH must always be a 'member of the household' (by Social Survey definition).

Each member of the household is coded from the frame below.

RELATIONSHIP TO HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD	SINGLE CODE FOR EACH PERSON
HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD	00
WIFE (of Head of Household)	01
COHABITEE (of Head of Household) (eg. common-law wife (incl. wife, fiancee, girlfriend if marital status = 2)	11
CHILDREN OF EITHER SEX (incl. step or adopted but not non-related foster children)	02
SON-IN-LAW or DAUGHTER-IN-LAW	03

RELATIONSHIP TO HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD	SINGLE CODE FOR EACH PERSON
PARENTS (of Head of Household)	04
PARENTS-IN-LAW (ie parents of spouse)	05
BROTHER or SISTER (of Head of Household)	06
GRANDCHILDREN	07
OTHER RELATIVE by blood, marriage or adoption	08
NON-RELATIVES (eg boarder, friend, non-related foster child, housekeeper, etc)	09

Adopted children are treated as natural children, but foster children are coded as non-relatives, unless they are in fact related, in which case the appropriate code for the stated relationship is used

iv. Date of birth

Year 93 is used for those born in 1893 or earlier for interviews in April-December 1992, Year 94 for those born in 1894 or earlier and interviewed January-March 1993.

EC Date of birth is checked against age If there is a discrepancy of 2 or more years, the year of birth is altered to agree with age and details listed

No answers

If day is omitted it is left blank

If month and year are omitted

i) they are left blank if the age is 0-15, 60 or over

ii) if the age is 16-59 (ie the eligible population for the Family Information section), the year is calculated from age bearing in mind the birthday month, which is coded 13 if omitted (Calculations for variables in the Family Information section are done as if 13 = 06)

v Age last birthday

Children under the age of 1 year are coded 00 People aged 100 years or over are included in code 99.

vi Marital Status

'Separated' includes both legal and de facto separation
'Married' includes common-law marriages so long as the "spouse" is described as wife
'Cohabiting' has priority over single, widowed, divorced and separated

Interviewers are instructed not to ask marital status if relationship to Head of Household is given as

i) 'wife' or 'husband' (married is simply coded)

ii) "common-law wife" or "common-law husband" or if cohabiting is spontaneously mentioned eg "girlfriend, she lives with me" (cohabiting is simply coded).

In all other cases marital status is asked.

vii. Family Unit

The same family unit number can only apply either to married or cohabiting couples without children, or to parent(s) and never married children (of any age). The children can be natural, step or adopted. It follows that foster children should be coded as separate family units (unless the foster parent is also the legal guardian). If the household contains a grandparent and grandchild with no intervening parent the same family unit is coded - provided the grandchildren have no children of their own and have never married.

viii. C.W.N

As this is an interviewer's assessment made entirely from observations, the precodes are not changed except in those cases where it is known beyond doubt that the informant was not seen at any time but the interviewer has coded 1 or 2, or when an individual schedule - not a proxy - has been completed for an informant coded 'Not seen'. In the latter case the 'no answer' code would be used.

If not coded and there is an interviewer's note explaining that he or she had difficulty in deciding whether the person was coloured or white (as defined), the information is coded as follows:

	SINGLE CODE
Not certain, but if forced to make a choice the interviewer would choose coloured	1
Not certain, but if forced to make a choice the interviewer would choose white	2

From 1980 onwards the following instructions have been applied and given priority over the preceding notes -

1. In cases where children aged under 16 years have not been seen (code 3) or the CWN item has not been coded by the interviewer they have been recoded the same as their parents if both parents have been seen, if both parents are the same colour and both are the children's natural parents.

2. If CWN has not been coded but OFF USE A IS CODED 3 (Refusal or Non contact) Code 3 (not seen) is ringed.

E.C If C.W.N is coded 3 but the person has a white individual schedule, C.W.N. is set to NA.

PRESENT ACCOMMODATION

Q2 The 'main living part' is interpreted as the living room, lounge or whatever it may be called

Q3 Where a building not previously used for residential purposes has been converted to a dwelling, it is the date of the original construction, NOT the conversion date which is required

Q4-10 General points

1. 'Accommodation' is defined for these questions as covering all the rooms at the address which the household either owns or pays rent for or occupies rent free. This includes shared rooms but excludes sub-let rooms.

2 If flat sharers constitute more than one household the rooms and amenities in the accommodation they occupy are treated as available to all of the occupants except for bedrooms, which are treated as available only to the household to which they actually belong, not the flat-sharers as a whole.

3 'Temporary' accommodation, such as re-housing while the informants house is improved or converted, is accepted if the length of stay in the temporary accommodation is/will be at least 6 months If the informant is living in a caravan in the garden of the sampled address while the renovation takes place the accommodation being renovated is coded as if on completion.

Qs4-7 The following definitions and procedures are applied

General Unusable amenities are included if the situation is temporary but excluded if permanent

Q4 Bedrooms Every household is shown as having a bedroom (or bedsitter) Even if the informant has only a kitchen with a bed in it, this is treated as a bedsitter. Any room used as a bedroom is coded here (up to a maximum of 8)

EC Q5 Q6 A check is carried out to ensure that either Q5 and/or Q6 is coded 1

Q6 A kitchen is defined as any room in which the household cooks other than those which in addition are used as bedrooms (see Q4 above) Second and subsequent kitchens are coded at Q7 Cooking facilities on landings or in halls, etc are excluded Pantries or sculleries used for cooking are included At Q6(b) current usage is coded Just having cups of tea or coffee is not counted as eating meals

Q6(d) 'Shared' is coded if the kitchen is shared with anyone outside the household, including people who work in a shop attached to the premises

Q7 Other rooms These are names of rooms in the accommodation which have not already been coded as bedroom or kitchen. The names of the rooms are compared with those shown on the lists overleaf and treated accordingly The total number of rooms (up to a maximum of 8) is coded here If there are no other (eligible) rooms, code 0 is entered

TENURE

Q12 This question means in whose name does the household own or rent the accommodation.

Informants who are cohabiting are treated as married.

Specified answers are examined and recoded as follows:

	SC
HOH who is a household member - ONLY	1
Wife/cohabitee of HOH who is a household member - ONLY ..	2
Joint HOH and wife/cohabitee - both household members ...	3
(EX) Spouse who is not a household member - ONLY	4
Joint HOH who is a household member and (ex) spouse who is not a household member	5
HOH or wife/cohabitee of HOH - both household members and any other household member	6
HOH or wife/cohabitee of HOH - both household members and anybody not in the household	7

If more than 2 people jointly own the property the codes are treated as if in priority order and the first code which applies to any 2 owners is used.

If an informant jointly owned the property with a former spouse but now owns it solely, only the informant is coded.

The only time HOH does not appear as (one of) the owners is when the property is owned in his wife's/cohabitee's or an (ex) spouse's name (codes 2, 4). The above points also apply to those who are renting the accommodation.

Q13 Life time tenancies are coded as rent free. Co-owners or equity sharers (code 3) usually identify themselves spontaneously at Q13. There are two further checks for co-owners at Q14(a) and Q19(b). Those identified from all three questions are classified as 'owner occupiers' at the analysis stage. Shared owners are also identified at Q14(a) and Q19(b). Accommodation owned or being bought solely or jointly by an ex-spouse or a spouse who is not a member of the household (eg away on business continuously for 6 months or more) is treated as owns/is buying. Rent to Mortgage schemes are treated as buying with a mortgage.

Q15 Code 1 is used only if a member of the present household previously rented the accommodation.

Code 3 is used if the accommodation was inherited or was acquired in some other way than buying eg a gift.

Q15EC There is a check to ensure that Q15 is coded 1 if Q39 is coded 1.

Q18 Code 1 includes, in addition to employees, self-employed persons who live in private accommodation which they rent together with business premises.

It also covers cases where the tenant is in the Forces and stationed away from the household

A housing subsidy paid by the employer (for example rent allowance or part of the rent paid) does not in itself warrant the question being coded 'Yes'. The accommodation must go with the job in the sense that the household would have to give up the accommodation if the job was given up

Past employment, such as ex-coal miners being allowed to stay on, are coded 2

Q19 Codes 5 and 8 are for all practical purposes the same and are merely convenience distinctions. They are used in all cases where the accommodation goes with a job, except for the self-employed (when the landlord is coded). Code 1 includes development corporations, eg Mid Wales Development Board. Code 4 includes all forms of co-operative housing.

Q20 This question refers to the Head of Household only

All circumstances apart from owning/buying are included in code 2 eg rented, rent free; accommodation went with job, lived with parents, no previous address as lived here since birth

Since the section is concerned with housing finance, any temporary accommodation the HOH lived in before moving here is ignored eg Q20 is coded 1 if the HOH owned accommodation, sold it and lived with parents temporarily until moving here.

Q20(a) Code 1 is used if the HOH sold the previous accommodation at any time after moving.

Q20(b) Code 98 is used if the year is not given but the HOH is the present owner and Q23 is 1987 or later or the HOH has been resident for less than 5 years from Q43

Q20(c) If the HOH owned the previous accommodation jointly with someone who did not move to the present address, only the HOH's share is recorded

Code 9 is used if the sale price included business premises or a farm

Q20(f) Any amount still outstanding on a second mortgage or top up loan is included

See notes at Q20(c) about joint ownership and business premises

Q22 Codes 01-07 have priority over other codes. Code 08 is used if employer is not codeable 01-06.

Q23 Code 98 is used if the year is not given but the present owner has been resident for less than 5 years from Q43.

Q23(b) Code 9 is used if the purchase price included business premises or a farm.

Q23(c) The amount of the original mortgage, including any top up loans, is coded.

Code 9 is used if the mortgage included business premises.

Q24 A re-mortgage occurs when an existing mortgage is redeemed (paid off) prematurely and immediately replaced by another mortgage secured on the same property It need not necessarily involve a change of lender, though usually it will be a transfer to a different lender offering more favourable rates

It is not a re-mortgage if the type of mortgate changes eg from repayment to endowment without the lender changing

Excluded are

Extensions to existing mortgage (ie extension of the period in which the loan is repayable)

Mortgages solely to make a property settlement when a marriage has broken down

Q24(a) The year is checked against Q23

Q24(b) Any top up loans are included in the amount.

Q24(d) Note that this question asks about the original mortgage that was ended Who provided the present mortgage is covered at Q22

Q24(e) Answers at code 04 are recoded using the following frame -

To make improvements or extensions to your home	01
To get a better interest rate	02
In connection with a business	03

To purchase a major item eg Buy a car, To buy holiday home; Furnishing of house, Purchase a caravan, Buy a boat.	07
Because of job/change of job eg Switched to bank as requirement of job, Qualified for low interest loan then left the job, Redundant from job providing mortgage, For tax purposes as an employee of a bank	08
Some other purpose (specify) Incl To pay medical costs, couldn't afford payments to first lender	04

Q26A/B The following do not count as second mortgages:

Top up loans (additional loans advanced by a second lender at the same time as the first mortgage because the first mortgage alone was not enough to buy the house).

New mortgages and bridging loans raised when selling one home to buy another.

Mortgages raised solely in order to make a property settlement when a marriage has broken down are excluded.

Third mortgages/loans are included (the earliest date is coded at Q27 and the combined amount at Q28).

Q27EC This is checked against Q23 to ensure consistency.

Q31 Answers at code 04 are (re)coded using the following frame:

GHS 1992/93

MIGRATION

Q43 For informants living at the same site but in a different type of accommodation (eg living in a caravan in the garden until house built) the total number of years at the site is counted even if the house number or name has changed.

Where a household member has left his house for a lengthy period, the length of time since he returned to live in the house is coded Temporary absences, ie without permanent intent are ignored Length of residence is checked against the age of children and discrepancies amended Similarly, a check is made with the year any household member first arrived in the United Kingdom and discrepancies resolved

Q43(a) If the informant is a serviceman residing with his unit, moves from camps, barracks, etc, are excluded, though moves from married quarters are included, as are moves from and to Great Britain For children under five, the number of moves in their lifetime is coded

Q44(a) 'First arrive' means for any purpose whatsoever, including holiday trips Years before 1901 are coded '01'.

Q44 The country of birth of each household member and their parents is Q45 coded from the frame on the following page
Q46 The country of birth of parents is checked for consistency where possible, applying the following instruction where necessary -

Step/foster/adopted/natural parents

Wherever possible it is the country of birth of the natural parents which is coded here However, interviewers are instructed to 'ASK OR RECORD' at this question, so they would not ask the question unless they had reason to believe that the parents of any children in the household were not the natural parents. If given the choice of natural parents' country of birth and foster/step/adopted parents' country of birth, the natural parents' country of birth is always coded

Q47 The following instruction was given to interviewers -

'You may code 01 without asking the question where the person concerned was obviously white and where he or she and both parents were born in Great Britain or Northern Ireland. You must not assume 01 at Q47 applies to anyone you have not actually seen, in these cases the question must be asked'

Code 98 is used in coding this question in cases where the question had been omitted but the interviewer could have used 01

(This code does not apply on the Scottish Supplementary Sample because CWN is not coded)

For 1992/93 the codes and coding procedures were made completely consistent with the Census

Code 97 is used if the question is refused (If code 04, or 09 is ringed and the informant refuses to describe racial/ethnic group, it is recoded 28 or 73)

Answers at codes 04 and 09 are recoded from the following frames, using the following notes

Answers are recoded into codes 11-77, they are not backcoded to precodes 01-08.

The answer recorded for that person at code 04/09 is coded. No reference is made to the person's nationality, country of birth or parents' country of birth, nor to that of ethnic origin of any related person.

Answers recorded at 'Black Other' (04) and 'None of these' (09) are recoded into the appropriate 'non-mixed' category when only one ethnic origin is given eg. Mauritian, Goanese. Answers are recoded into the appropriate 'mixed' category when mixed ethnic origins are given.

1. Written answers and codes 01-03, 05-08 ringed

If only one of codes 01-03, 05-08 is ringed and there is a written answer, the code is accepted and the written answer ignored (even if the written answer seems to contradict the code).

2. Multi-coding

If code 04 (Black other) and code 05, 06, 07 or 08 are ringed and there is a written answer which is Indian, Pakistani, Bangladeshi or Chinese, it is recoded to 12, 13, 14 or 15 respectively. If 'Asian' is also written, it is recoded to 12, 13, 14 or 15 respectively.

If code 09 (None of these) and code 05, 06, 07 or 08 are ringed and there is a written answer which is Indian, Pakistani, Bangladeshi or Chinese, it is recoded to 12, 13, 14 or 15 respectively. If 'Asian' is also written, it is recoded to 12, 13, 14 or 15 respectively.

If code 08 (Black other) or code 10 (None of these) is ringed and code 02, 03, 04 or 05 is ringed and there is a written answer which implies mixed origin, it is coded from the appropriate frame (codes 21-23 or 61-77).

If both codes 04 (Black other) and 09 (None of these) are ringed and there is a written answer, the code from the 'None of these' frame (codes 61-77) is always selected.

If two of codes 01-03, 05-08 are ringed, any written answer is ignored and the multi-coding index is used.

3. Written answer but no code ringed

If no code is ringed, but there is a written answer (other than 'Refused' which is coded 97), the 'None of these' frame (codes 61-77) is always used.

Notes on non-mixed and mixed origin

NON-MIXED

(a) Non-mixed is indicated if the written answer is one ethnic group or one country or one continent

(c) Anglo and Euro indicate mixed origin

(d) 'Half' together with a non-White ethnic group is read as White eg Half Pakistani is coded as mixed White and Pakistani

INDIVIDUAL SCHEDULE

The instructions given below for the Individual Schedule apply equally to the corresponding questions in the Proxy Schedule.

EMPLOYMENT

Q1 For this question 'working' includes the following (but note that most analyses of economic status use Q2(b)/Q3)

1 Employment for any number of hours last week, including Saturday jobs and casual work, eg baby sitting, running mail order clubs (where amounts can be credited, which are then allowed against goods ordered in lieu of cash payment) etc.

2 Anyone, who was paid a wage or salary by an employer while attending an educational establishment (even while on holiday) including student nurses training under the traditional scheme, seconded teachers, or social workers Sandwich or block course students on the college part of their course are counted as having a job which they were away from last week (Code 1 at Q1(a)) Anyone not coded as working and receiving a grant rather than pay from employer are coded economically inactive (see notes on Code 6)

3 Wives working for any number of hours in their husband's business as long as they are paid or will receive a share of the profits

4 Anyone else working in a friend's or relative's business, as long as they (will) receive an amount of money in remuneration or a share of the profits

5 Unpaid 'family workers' (eg a wife doing her husband's accounts or helping with the family business) if the work contributes directly to a business, farm or professional practice owned or operated by a related member of the same household

6 Farmers working their own farm for profit, or businessmen (including working partners) in their own business

7 Members of limited companies whether working or not (They are treated as employees)

8 Those absent from work due to illness, strikes, lay-offs, holidays, maternity leave, provided they have a job to go back to with the same employer (not necessarily at the same place of work) Those receiving redundancy payments are not included here - one of Codes 3-6 will apply

9 Informants receiving holiday pay for the reference week but who have left their previous employer, including informants on terminal leave from the forces.

10 Employees who work regularly but not every week (eg every other week)

11. Seasonal, occasional or casual workers only if they worked last week

12 Contract workers not paid until completion of the job (eg writers, evening class teachers)

13 Anyone on a government scheme (Youth Training Scheme, Employment Training, Community Industry) which is employer based

14 Self-employed persons receiving Enterprise Allowance

NB Work is given priority over any other activity in the reference week

Q1 continued

Looking for work (code 4) includes -

1. Anyone who was out of employment but actively seeking work in the reference week, eg registered at a Government employment Office, Job Centre or Careers Office, or at a private employment agency, answering advertisements, advertising for a job, etc.

2. Informants 'on the books' of private employment agencies who did not work during the reference week because the agency had no work for them.

3. Informants doing voluntary work if they are also looking for work.

Intending to look for work ..... (code 5) includes -

'Temporary' sickness or injury if not more than 28 days at one go. (Code 6 is used if the sickness spell has lasted more than 28 days).

Persons not considered to be in the labour force, and coded 6, include:

1. Unpaid voluntary workers (unless code 4 applies).

2. Unpaid trainees and nurses training under the Project 2000 scheme.

3. People on a government scheme, which is not employer based.

4. Unpaid 'family workers' in a business owned or operated by a relative who is not a member of the household.

5. Persons working for expenses or for payment in kind only (other than mail order agents), including those getting free accommodation in place of wages.

6. Women taking in boarders, where the boarders are members of the household.

7. Partners in businesses which are not limited companies who do not work ('sleeping' partners).

8. Informants prevented from looking for work where the current spell of sickness has lasted more than 28 days.

9. Seasonal, occasional or casual workers who did not work during the reference period.

10. Sandwich or block release course students who receive an education grant not pay from employer.

11. People receiving redundancy payments who have no job to return to.

12. Handicapped people attending occupation centres (where earnings are little for a fairly large number of hours of 'work').

13. Local councillors who are paid an attendance allowance.

NB Code 6 is used only if none of categories 3-5 at Q1a(i) apply.

Q2 The responsibility for organising and delivering government schemes is increasingly held locally by Training and Enterprise Councils (TEC) in England and Wales and Local Enterprise Companies (LEC) in Scotland, instead of the Training Agency

Code 1. Youth Training (formerly YTS) This scheme focuses on unemployed 16 and 17 year olds and provides an integrated programme of training, education and work experience for up to 2 years From April 1986, 16 year old school leavers have been eligible for a 2-year YT and 17 year old school leavers for a 1-year YT

In most schemes the young person will work with an employer but will receive a minimum number of weeks training, some or all of which may be at a college In some cases the person will spend most of the time on a course at a College of Further Education or other educational establishment

YT for young people with disabilities 2 years YT training is available for young disabled people aged 16-21 who have recently left full-time education

Code 2 Employment Training (ET). A government scheme aimed at thelong term unemployed It is a response to the problem of those who have been unemployed for a long period and seeks to address the shortage of skilled workers While YT is aimed at the 16/17 year old school leaver, ET is available for a much wider age range (18-59) The scheme began in September 1988 ET takes over from a range of government schemes and covers

Employment Training
Community Programme
Voluntary Project Programme
Wider Opportunities Training Programme

People on ET will usually be with an employer but as with YT the scheme can include periods of college training, or in some cases the person on the scheme may spend most of their time at a college

Code 3 Community Industry Scheme (CI)

It provides jobs for personally and socially disadvantaged young people who undertake work projects of benefit to the community Community Industry recruits 17-19 year olds for whom YT places are inappropriate and temporary employment is provided by Community Industry Ltd, a registered charity People on a CI scheme have a formal contract of employment and are counted as being 'employed'

EC Q2 Checks are made to ensure that if the person is on YT the age is 16-19 (21 if disabled), and if on ET that the age is 18-59

Q2(a) If an informant was both with an employer and at college last week, priority is given to code 1 ie employer based. If the YT/ET participant was ill or away from the scheme for another reason, the usual place of training is coded.

Note that people on YT/ET with an employer last week are treated as working last week and so questions about their main job (Employment Qs 7-16) apply to the YT/ET job. People on YT/ET who were college based last week are asked the same questions as the economically inactive. However in analyses they are treated as economically active.

Q4-5 These questions on looking for work and availability for work are to enable GHS to identify the unemployed under the Standard International Labour Organisation (ILO) definition of unemployed.

Q4 Code 1 includes those people not looking for work but looking for an ET or YT place.

Q6A/B Codes 1 and 3 include Saturday jobs and jobs such as paper boy done before the age of 16.

Q7 'Looking for' work cannot start before the end of the last paid job, or government scheme such as YT, ET.

This period of unemployment includes time when the informant was prevented from looking for work due to a temporary sickness/illness as well as time spent waiting to take up a job.

For informants who have been in prison, only the period since their release is coded.

If the informant had already found a job before becoming unemployed and had chosen to wait before starting the new job so was not looking for work during the period of unemployment, this is coded 1.

Q8 Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) (1990) compiled by the OPCS, is used to code the informant's occupation to the 3 digit unit group

The socio-economic group, major and minor groups are then derived from the 3 digit code and employment status The frame for socio-economic group is as follows

SEG		SINGLE CODE
1 1	EMPLOYERS IN CENTRAL & LOCAL GOVERNMENT, INDUSTRY, COMMERCE, ETC - LARGE ESTABLISHMENTS (25 OR MORE)	01
1 2	MANAGERS IN CENTRAL & LOCAL GOVERNMENT, INDUSTRY, COMMERCE, ETC - LARGE ESTABLISHMENTS (25 OR MORE)	02

NB Occupation is coded by interviewers

Q8 continued

Major Groups are derived from the first digit of 3 digit unit group.

MAJOR GROUPS	SINGLE CODE

Professional occupations	2
Associate professional and technical operations	3
Clerical and secretarial occupations	4
Craft and related occupations	5

Sales occupations	7
Plant and machine operatives	8

The 77 Minor groups are derived from the first two digits of the 3 digit unit group. The full description of these groups can be found in Volume 1 of the Standard Occupational Classification.

Q8 continued

SIC(R) Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) (revised ~~1980~~ 1990) compiled by the Central Statistical Office, is used to code the industry in which the informant works to the 3 digit Census codes,

SIC Division is then derived from the 3 digit Census codes as follows

SIC DIVISION		SINGLE CODE
0	Agriculture, forestry and fishing	00
1	Energy and water supply industries	01
2	Extraction of minerals and ores other than fuels, manufacture of metals, mineral products and chemicals	02

7	Transport and communication	07
8	Banking, finance, insurance, business services and leasing	08
9	Other services	09
-	Insufficient information given to classify NA/DK/refusal	99
NB	Industry is coded by interviewers

Q8 1. Employee/self-employed

In general the way informants classify themselves is accepted. Where there is doubt they are classified according to how they are described for tax purposes ie Employees pay schedule E tax, the self-employed pay under Schedule D.

2. Self-Employed: Includes freelance workers, doctors in private practice.

Odd Jobs such as gardening, baby sitting, mail order agents, pools agents would generally be classed as self-employed - but a regular milk or paper round would not.

Owners (whole or in part) of businesses count as self-employed, including wives who say they are self-employed in their husband's business.

Partners in businesses which are not limited companies are self-employed (and are not shown as working unless they did work last week).

NB It is possible to be self-employed and work under contract to an employer (eg in the construction industry).

3. Employees: All members of limited companies are employees (and are treated as working whether they do anything or not).

Limited Company Directors are employees, (and are treated as having a job even if they only receive a small emolument).

4. Priests: in general, the way informants classify themselves is accepted. If there is any doubt then Jehovah's Witnesses are treated as self-employed; non-conformists and Church of England are treated as employees.

RC priests are eligible.

Q8(a)

Managers, foremen/supervisor, other employee The distinction between these categories is important but sometimes difficult 'Managers' are generally responsible for long term planning and have overall control often through foremen or supervisors.

'Foremen' and 'Supervisors' have day-to-day control of a group of workers whom they supervise directly, sometimes themselves doing some of the work they supervise

Job titles can be a useful indication of level of responsibility but can also be misleading (eg a 'playground supervisor' supervises children, not employees, and so should not be coded a supervisor)

Q8(a)(i)

It is the size of the establishment at the address where the informant works which is required here, eg the number in the ICI factory not the whole of ICI.

The pre-codes are in an extended form in order to analyse the pension scheme data (The distinction of 1-24 or 25-499 or 500 or more employees is used in the derivation of Socio-economic Group)

If the question is not coded but there is an indication of the number, it is coded as follows.

1-24 employees	6
25 or more employees	7

Q8(b)

Number of employees excludes any relative who is a member of the informant's household and any self-employed partners in a partnership

If there are employees but the number is not known, code 5 is used

Q8(c)

If the job was originally created because of a scheme or the informant stayed on in the job after their scheme was completed, Q8(c) is coded 'no'

EC Q8(c)

A check is made to ensure that Q8(c) is not coded 1 if Q3 is coded 3 and Q2 coded 4

Q9 If the informant has more than one "second" job, the most remunerative is coded

Territorial Army is accepted as a second job.

A person can have 2 jobs both of which entail doing the same kind of work eg a GP who also works as a hospital consultant, a school teacher who also teaches evening classes, or a local authority gardener who also does odd gardening jobs in the evenings or at weekends

Working as a domestic help, jobbing gardener etc for several people concurrently does NOT count as more than 1 job

Q10 Any number of hours from 01 to 98 is coded

Code 98 is used for 99 or more hours.

If the hours vary within a set pattern - for example the informant works 48 hours and 44 hours on alternative weeks - the average number is coded

Estimates, such as the approximate average number of hours over 3 months for someone who has considerable variation in hours or who works but not every week, or number of hours expected to be worked by a person who has just started in a new job, are accepted

If the interviewer has noted that he/she has not been able to obtain an answer to the question because the informant is a casual worker, NA code 99 is used

For seasonal workers the hours worked in the current season are taken

For short time workers the hours usually worked when not on short time are coded

In cases where the informant is 'on call' (permanently or sporadically) and has been able to give an average number of hours of less than 98 hours per week then the average has been coded, eg 35 hours a week, but also on call a day per fortnight, 35 is coded

An average of 40 hours a week, but on call 24 hours per day, 7 days a week, 40 hours is coded.

If the precise number of hours are unknown or cannot be calculated yet there is sufficient evidence to show that the informant is a full or part-time worker, coding is as follows -

	SC
Part-time worker ie 0-10 hours .	06
Part-time worker ie 11-30 hours .	21
Full-time worker ie 31-98 hours . .	40

Q11A/B	If the informant has worked on and off for his present employer the length of time in the current spell is coded.
Q12(a)	Only whole working days off sick are coded. If someone was off sick for 4 weeks interviewers established the number of working days involved.

No, NEVER WORKED	2	See Q16

Q13 If a person has been coded by the interviewer as 'doing something else' (code 5) and the answer indicates that the informant was sick or on holiday, but normally one of Codes 1-4 applies, the question is recoded to the appropriate category

Code 1 excludes evening classes and other part-time study, it includes full-time students on holiday or sick

Code 2 includes: those whose inability to work is due to their own health problems or disablement but excluding those of retirement age

Code 3 excludes women who 'retired' at an early age to become housewives The intention is to include only those who last week had retired from their full-time occupation at approximately the retirement age for that job and not seeking further employment of any kind

An extra check is introduced on the schedule to ensure that women aged under 50 are not included in this code

Code 4 includes daughters who assist their mother to keep house

Persons permanently unable to work due to domestic responsibilities

Code 5 includes elderly people who live with relatives (and where none of codes 1-4 apply)

People attending training centres for handicapped, (physically or mentally handicapped)

People doing unpaid voluntary work (if codes 1-4 do not apply)

People doing unpaid work training (unless part of a college course, in which case they would be coded as 1).

Temporarily sick persons without a job to go back to who are not looking for work

Longer term sick who would otherwise be looking for work.

Full time students aged 50 or over

Q13(a)(i)&(ii) These questions enable GHS to identify the unemployed under the standard International Labour Organisation (ILO) definition of unemployed, as do Qs4-5

PENSIONS

Q2 Employers' pensions include:

private pension schemes run by public sector employers eg the Civil Service, Nationalised Industries, Local Authorities, Forces, foreign employer's pension scheme.

They exclude:

State Graduated Pensions and lump sum payment only on retirement, long service award only, pension schemes run by Trade Unions and Friendly Societies unless the employer is also involved in the control of the scheme and made financial contributions to it.

NB The information collected here is not edited on the basis of information about the current job. Editing only takes place if there are notes at this question except that all civil servants are coded as the employer running a pension scheme.

Q2(a) There are several reasons why informants may not be eligible to belong to the employer's pension scheme eg the informant's job is not eligible (part-time or temporary); the scheme is for specific occupations; the informant is too young or too old; the informant has not been with the firm long enough.

Q3(a)

Some people arrange pensions for themselves for which the contributions are income tax deductible rather than belonging to an employer's pension scheme These arrangements are sometimes called 'personal pensions' or 'private pensions' or 'portable pensions'

Prior to July 1988 personal pensions were generally only taken out by the self-employed and by employees who did not belong to their employer's pension scheme, because only these groups of people were eligible for tax relief on personal pensions contributions

From July 1988 all employees have been given the choice of starting their own Personal Pension in place of SERPS (State earnings related pension scheme), and employees who are in their employer's pension scheme can also choose a Personal Pension instead

Where an employee chooses to start a Personal Pension in place of SERPS, both the employer and employee will still pay the full-rate national insurance contributions (ie contracted-in rate), and part of these plus tax relief will be paid by DSS into the employee's chosen scheme In addition, a special incentive payments will be paid into all new Personal Pension schemes until April 1993

Employees will be able to make extra contributions directly into these Personal pensions and get tax relief on them up to Inland Revenue limits

Employers can also make extra contributions into an employee's Personal Pension Scheme These payments will be offset against tax

Included in code 1 (at present has such arrangements)

Informants who have taken out a personal pension but not yet made any contribution provided they intend to make a contribution between time of interview and September 1993 inclusive

Informants who have a personal pension scheme and make irregular contributions provided they made or intend to make a contribution between April 1991 and September 1993 inclusive

Pension Mortgage

Included in code 2

Personal pension schemes which have been cancelled or frozen (ie no contribution made or intended to be made between April 1991 and September 1993 inclusive)

Code 1 at Q3(a) and code 2 at both (b) and (c) is accepted as they may make no contributions over and above those made through DSS

Q3(b) This question is about who makes the contributions rather than regularity of contributions.

If contributions are made by a spouse or close relative (but not if the spouse/relative is the employer) code 1 is used.

Q3(d) Included in Code 1: Personal pension schemes which have since been cancelled or are frozen (ie no contribution made or intended to be made between April 1991 and September 1993 inclusive). Also included are informants who are now drawing their personal pensions.

Q4(a)&(b) The notes at Q3(a) and Q3(d) also apply here.

EDUCATION

Q1 The age will normally be in the range 12-20, but could be outside these limits, especially for informants born abroad

If informants mention that they left school before reaching the minimum school-leaving age - currently 16 - because their birthday was in the holiday period between school years or terms, they are coded as having left at the minimum age

Q2 Notes

1 'Further education' includes

- Any course attended at any type of college of further education, university, teacher training establishment, polytechnic, etc including secretarial courses and courses at military colleges, such as Sandhurst, which lead to a qualification
- Open University courses
- training given to nurses, physiotherapists, radiographers, and similar paramedical professions
- day-release courses
- sandwich and block-release courses. (Sandwich courses tend to be up to 6 months in college and 6 months at work, block-release courses average 18 weeks or less in college per year)
- ET or YT courses at recognised educational institutions (usually Technical Colleges)
- correspondence courses (other than Open University)
- unpaid vocational training at any type of college
- courses at Tertiary colleges

2. 'Further education' excludes:

- leisure classes (where the course does not normally lead to an examination or qualification)

- paid vocational or in-service training (such as that given to members of the police or fire service) - because courses are run by the employer. (But note that training given to nurses, physiotherapists, nursery nurses, etc, is included)

- studying on own (apart from Open University and correspondence courses) where the informant is not receiving any form of tuition, nor studying for an exam, or only getting practical experience.

Students on vacation are coded as studying

For students interviewed during their vacation, the course/type of institution they were attending in the previous term is coded, provided they will be attending again when the vacation is over. If their return is dependant upon examination results, it is assumed that the exam will be passed.

If next term they will be attending a different type of institution eg going from school to college, the new one is coded.

Students on a sandwich course or a block-release course:

In either case it is immaterial whether the student is in the college or working part of his course at the time of interview, ie precodes 3 or 5 are ringed accordingly at Q2(a).

Q2(a)

Code 1 - includes full-time or part-time attendance at college as part of YT/ET scheme.

Code 2 - studying at college or university full-time includes - those studying for a degree in medicine
- those studying at a Tertiary college
- those studying for a degree in nursing or on Project 2000.

Code 4 - includes nurses training under the traditional scheme

Code 5 - studying at college part-time or on day or block-release;
includes - those studying in the evenings only
- those on any course lasting less than 3 months altogether

EC Q2(a)

A check is made to ensure that Q(2a) is coded 1 if Employment Q2(a) is coded 2.

Q3

See Q2 for details on what is included/excluded.

Q4 Last FULL TIME Education

Precode 1: includes	Primary and elementary schools Secondary schools - grammar; secondary modern; comprehensive; sixth form college; community school or college; Public school; private school; central school; Technical School; City Technology College. Special schools for the physically and mentally handicapped; ESN schools.
Precode 2: includes	doctors who did practical work as part of their training in a (teaching) hospital.
excludes	Open university - this is part-time education so does not appear here.
Precode 3: includes	All polytechnics, known as central institutions in Scotland.
Precode 4: includes	All nursing schools or teaching hospitals eg nurses, physiotherapists and others trained in paramedical subjects.
excludes	doctors; their practical work forms part of their degree course, and hence are coded to 'university'
Precode 5: includes	All other colleges of further education provided the course lasted at least 3 months, and was run by an educational establishment, either in the State or private sector.

Foreign schools/colleges are included in the equivalent GB code.

Q6/Q7

Q6 and Q7 are looked at together and coded as a whole

The information given in the box on page 15 is used to check the correctness of the precoding of codes 36-39 All qualifications other than well known ones such as first degrees, teaching certificate, etc are checked against the 1991 Census coding documents 'Qualified Manpower - Indexes of Acceptable Qualifications' which divides qualifications into 3 levels (A, B and C) Any qualifications not considered high enough to warrant C level are treated as unacceptable when the Census is coded, this means they do not attain a standard above that of GCE 'A' level

(For the purposes of easier handling in coding the General Household Survey, an index of qualifications listed alphabetically by subject has been drawn up from the Census document which is used if the qualification cannot be found in the Qualified Manpower Index)

Level A consists of higher degrees (doctorates and master's degrees and certain bachelor degrees of higher degree standard) (code 39)

Level B covers

First degrees (code 38) (bachelor degrees and certain master's degrees of first degree standard)

B Level university diplomas, certificates and associateships (code 37)

B Level qualifications obtained from other colleges and professional institutions (code 37).

C Level university diplomas, etc (new code 41)

C Level teaching qualifications (code 36), including Art teachers qualifications and post graduate teachers certificates

C Level qualifications obtained from other colleges and professional institutions (new code 41)

Nursing qualifications (code 35).

HNC/HND BEC/TEC BTEC Higher Certificate or Diploma (code 32)

City and Guilds Full Technological Certificate (code 29)

A further new code 42 is used for all foreign qualifications The distinction between degree level and other qualifications is no longer made.

Code 40 is used for all remaining qualifications designated 'unacceptable' by, or not appearing in, the Census Index and not codable into 00-24, 25-39 or 41-42 It consists mainly of local or regional school leaving certificates and of college or professional awards not regarded as 'higher education' (ie not above GCE 'A' Level Standard) It is a single code and given least priority

(It should be noted that the Census includes 'acceptable' qualifications awarded in Southern Ireland, but these are treated as foreign qualifications in the General Household Survey (code 42).

If the level of the qualification cannot be established it is coded to the lowest level.

Q6/Q7

More than one qualification obtained of the same type: If an informant has obtained more than one qualification of a type allocated a given code, all such qualifications are given a single code. For example, different RSA typing exams, and Pitman's shorthand exams, may have been passed but all of these would be covered by the one code 26. The same applies to college or university diplomas, etc, or professional qualifications, at each of levels A, B or C.

For most purposes it is the highest qualification (or combination of qualifications) which is required. The order of precedence, which is applied at the computer stage, is reproduced on page 14/15. Some departments may use collapsed versions.

NOTES ON CODING PARTICULAR QUALIFICATIONS

i. 'S' level is treated as 'A' level.

ii. 'Attestation of Fitness' can be awarded for either SUPE or SCE Higher or GCE 'A' levels. If stated, it is coded to the appropriate examination, and if not stated it is treated as SCE Higher.

iii. Certificate of Extended Education grades 1-3 are coded as CSE Grade 1 (code 1); grades 4 or 5 as CSE other grades (code 2).

iv. Irish School Certificate (Northern Ireland) is treated as School Certificate (3) unless described as 'Senior' when it is coded to either 'A' or 'O' level GCE, depending on the age when it was taken, or is described as 'Junior' when it is coded as 40.

v. Any other local or 'private' school leaving certificates, such as the Scottish Day Leaving Certificate or those issued by the College of Preceptors and the Regional Examining Unions (see below) are coded into 'others' (40).

vi. RSA, Pitman's and London Chamber of Commerce qualifications are treated as clerical/commercial, provided that at least one of the subjects shown is clerical/commercial (shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, commerce, etc). If none of the subjects passed is clerical/commercial the qualification is coded as 40 except for the RSA School Certificate (Technical), which is treated as equivalent to City and Guilds craft level.

vii. Regional Examining Union awards (REUs)

Technical qualifications from any of the REUs are treated as City and Guilds craft level.
Commercial/Clerical qualifications from any of the above (ie at least one subject passed is a commercial or clerical subject) are coded as 26.

If not a technical or commercial qualification the information is coded as 40 (eg School Leaving Certificates).

Industry Training Board Qualifications are treated as technical examinations (code 27).

ix Foreign qualifications include all qualifications where the awarding body was overseas (unless they appear on the deletions list).

Deleted Qualifications. The following qualifications are deleted altogether If these sorts of qualifications are the only ones the informant has obtained, then Q6 and Q7 are recoded to 'No'

DELETIONS LIST

1. Apprenticeship qualifications are sometimes awarded automatically when an apprenticeship has been completed eg 'Master Butcher's Federal Diploma' In these cases the apprenticeship as such is coded as 25 and the 'award' deleted.

2 Board of Trade (unless in the indexes)

3 Civil Service Examinations for entrance, promotion, establishment, typing etc

4 Dancing awards (but NOT ballet qualifications which should be coded as 40)

5 Drawing Certificates awarded by the Royal Drawing Society

6 Driving Certificates and Driving Instructor's qualifications

7 Fellow (if not covered by indexes)

8 Fire brigade examinations

9 First Aid Certificates (incl all Red Cross/St John's Ambulance qualifications)

11 Government Trade Centre (GTC)/Skill Centre courses or awards, TOPS courses - (unless a recognised qualification eg RSA/GCE was obtained)

12. GPO qualifications, except any which are recognised apprenticeships

13 Labour Examination (pre 1918). This allowed a child to leave school and start work at 13

14 Local Authority examinations for entrance, promotion, etc in Local Authority Service

16 Mining deputies/shot fires/foremen etc - designations awarded by employers including the NCB but not qualifications awarded by the Mining Qualifications Board

17 Music Grade examinations and certificates for learners (eg Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music)

18. Nursing qualifications obtained by qualified nurses after taking supplementary courses (unless shown in the indexes).

19. Ordination/lay preaching qualifications

20. Play Group leader's qualifications.

21. Police Force examinations.

22. Prison/Borstal training qualifications

23. Scholarships other than for GCE 'A' level.

25. Swimming Certificates includes life saving and instructors' certificates.

26. Sports coaching and refereeing qualifications

27. Union Membership eg Equity, National association of Head Teachers, IPMS (Institute of Professional Managers and Specialists).

28. Qualifications issued by employers (other than those already covered above) are deleted in most cases, but they need to be considered individually as they come up, and an ad hoc decision is made in each case.

29. Intermediate qualifications are deleted if the informant has also obtained the relevant final or other higher qualification - unless it is an 'acceptable' qualification in its own right (eg City and Guilds Intermediate; Intermediate Bachelor of Laws exam).

30. Partially completed qualifications:

    If the qualification is one which, if completed, would be coded as a school examination, a commercial qualification, City and Guilds craft or advanced level, ONC, or apprenticeship, it is deleted. (eg 'Passed first year of City and Guilds course'). I. the qualification is one which, if completed, would fall into any other group, it is deleted if, in addition, any qualification equivalent to, or higher than, 'A' levels, Higher School Certificate or the Scottish equivalent has been obtained (ie any of the codes 12-16, 24, 29, 32, 35-36, 37-39 or 41). If none of these are shown, the type of qualification and the level reached indicate whether the information should be accepted or deleted.

31. Repeated subjects for the same qualifications. eg the same subjects may be taken for 'A' levels in consecutive years in order to obtain higher grades; or shorthand and typing qualifications at different speeds may be shown. In these cases the qualification is coded once only, for the first occasion passed.

32. Examination results not yet known

If more than one qualification is eligible for subject area coding, and the subject falls into more than one code, priority is given to the subject area of a degree coded 39, in all other cases the 'combination' code 16 is used.

EC Q6/Q7

GHS 1992/93

VOLUNTARY WORK

The definition of voluntary work is not exactly the same as that used in 1987 work for a trade union or political party is excluded.

Q1 The definition of voluntary work is unpaid work except for occasional out-of-pocket expenses, which is done as a member of a group or on behalf of an organisation of some kind It should be of service or benefit to other people or the community and not only be of benefit to one's immediate family or personal friends In other words, if a member of the informant's family benefits other people must also benefit, eg a scoutsmaster can have his own son in the troop or a mother may help at the playgroup her child attends

Voluntary work groups include self-help groups, community groups and pressure groups as well as the more traditional voluntary organisations Animal welfare groups eg RSPCA are also included

It does not include activities which people take on as individuals, for example, informal caring within the family, or the informal care of a neighbour or friends, or acts of reciprocity between individuals (eg feeding a neighbour's pets, taking it in turns to babysit for each other's children)

Note that the following activities do not count as voluntary work for the purposes of this study

i work for a trade union or political party

ii fostering children

iii contributing to collections for charity or attending fund-raising events

iv jury service, blood donors

v voluntary work organised by a school in order for a student to gain work experience

vi voluntary work carried out abroad

vii help given by teachers with out of school activities such as sport and visits

viii work undertaken by clergymen as part of their job

Q 4(b) If more consultations Otherwise Q5

Q4 'Talk to a doctor' includes speaking to the doctor on the telephone, as well as seeing him at home or in the surgery

Where the doctor sees only a relative of the patient, and not the patient himself, the visit is coded on the relative's schedule only (if in the household) and transferred to the patients record at the computing stage and Q4(b) is recoded to 1

However, where a doctor visits a house and examines a patient and, at the same visit, talks to another member of the household about the patient, the visit will be shown only on the schedule of the patient

Where the doctor sees more than one person at the same visit eg a mother and child, only the mother's consultation is coded at this question The child's consultation is coded at Q17 If those seen were adults in the same household, each Individual Schedule for each adult seen on that same visit is coded as one visit for each individual adult.

Types of consultations included are i Where a doctor in a hospital functions as GP to the hospital staff and the informant is on the hospital staff

ii 'Medicals', regardless of whoever requested them (eg Insurance Company, employer, Armed Forces) or of where they are held

iii Visit to the doctor to get a passport photo signed

vi Army medical services used by Army families.

v Visit to the GP for family planning and maternity services

The following are not included at this question

i Consultations made on behalf of children under 16 and persons outside the household (including a deceased person)

ii Visit of phone calls to the doctor to order or pick up a prescription or to book appointments or to arrange home visits (unless there is an indication that the doctor was spoken to personally)

iii Visits to osteopaths, homeopathic doctors, chiropractors, hypnotists, etc (unless a qualified doctor)

iv. Consultations between members of the medical profession about patients/clients

v Doctors talked to at Child Welfare and Child Health Clinics and blood donor sessions

vi Doctors seen in hospital (unless this was merely a more convenient place to see the GP)

vii. Chats to a doctor for social reasons which have nothing to do with any medical or psychological problems.

viii. Follow-up visits by a hospital doctor to informant's home (eg for TB, VD and infectious diseases where the tracing of contacts is necessary).

ix. Informants or children seen by 'home' doctor at a convalescent home are treated as hospital visits and deleted.

x. Doctors who are close relatives/immediate family.

xi. Family planning doctors seen at Family planning clinics or health centres.

At part (c) payment by employers (including the Forces) is coded as 'private'.

At part (d) code 1 includes the Doctors' Emergency Service.

If the answer is 'consultant' this is recoded 2.

Code 3 includes Forces MO's, school doctors and company doctors.

At part (e) code 2 includes seeing the doctor in a relative's or friend's home.

Code 3 includes GP clinics; GP centres, medical centres, group practice.

Code 4 includes seeing the doctor at school, at work, in the Forces or Hospital Clinics.

Doctors seen abroad are normally deleted.

Q5 The total number of outpatient visits is coded in the OFF USE BOX. If the total is 99 or more code 98 is used and the actual total specified with age, sex and OCC of informant.

Included are: Visits to private hospitals and private clinics.

Visits to dental hospitals.

Visits to pathology department for tests as an outpatient.

Excluded are: Visits to eye clinic at a health centre.

Visits to antenatal and post-natal clinics.

Visits as a day patient (covered at Q6)

Q6 Day patients are defined as patients admitted to a hospital bed during the course of a day or to a day ward where a bed, couch or trolley is available for the patient's use. They are admitted with the intention of receiving care or treatment which can be completed in a few hours so that they do not require to remain in hospital overnight. Dialysis patients are included.

A patient admitted as a day patient who has to stay overnight is counted as an inpatient.

Q6(a) A total of 99 or more is coded as 98.

Q7 This includes in-patient stays in private hospitals or clinics.

Q7(a) An in-patient stay lasts from admission to discharge, discounting weekends at home.

Q7(b) A maximum of the 6 most recent stays is coded.

Any stay of 99 or more nights is coded 98.

For proxy interviews where the person is currently in hospital, the nights so far are coded.

Q10

Glasses and contact lenses

Q8 If the informant has glasses or contact lenses but does not wear them, Q8 is coded 2

Q8(a) Code 2 is used if the informant wears lenses and keeps a pair of glasses only for emergency

Code 3 is only used if the informant wears both glasses and lenses on a regular basis or at the same time.

Q8(b), Q9 Includes glasses obtained privately or on the NHS.

Excludes ordinary (ie non-prescription) sunglasses and protective glasses (eg worn by welders).

Q9 Note that the definition is different from 1991/92

Glasses = new frames plus new lenses

The reason for acquiring a new pair of glasses is irrelevant Glasses which are obtained on an old prescription because the glasses were lost or broken or a new prescription or ready made reading glasses are included. Glasses/contact lenses obtained abroad are included

Code 2 is used if the informant obtained new frames only, or new lenses fro frames only

If the informant only wears one contact lens and purchases a replacement it is included

A single lens purchased to replace a lost or broken lens (assuming the informant has lenses for both eyes) is excluded

Q9(a) Contact lenses A pair of lenses counts as 1. If only one lens is required, either because only one eye requires a lens or because the sight of only one eye has changed, this also counts as 1.

Disposable lenses made up to one prescription is counted as one pair of lenses Disposable lenses issued in separate batches (eg every 3 months) on the same prescription counts as one

Q10 Includes sight tests by opticians in shops or stores.

Excludes tests in hospitals, doctor's surgeries and clinics and sight tests abroad.

Q10(a) Code 1 (informant paid) is used even if they only paid part of the fee or if someone else (eg parent) paid on behalf of the informant.

If multi coding occurs because the informant had more than one sight test in the last year, code 3 is given priority over codes 1 and 2, and code 1 is given priority over code 2.

Q10(a)(ii) The answer to this question is accepted and no check is made with Health or Income. However, if there is a note at the question that the informant belongs to one of the groups eligible for a NHS test, it is recoded 1.

Hearing aids

Q11 This is an opinion question and the informant's answer is accepted eg 'No' is accepted even if the informant has mentioned hearing difficulty at Q2(a)(Health) or interviewer notes indicate a hearing problem; 'Yes' is accepted if there is a note such as 'yes because I suffer from catarrh'.

SMOKING

(NB The self completion questions are treated in the same way as Qs1-11).

Q1 Snuff, tobacco for chewing and herbal tobaccos are excluded.

Q3 & Q4 Here and at Q4, if a range is given, the mid-point is coded, and 99 or more cigarettes a day coded as 98.

Those smoking hand-rolled cigarettes and giving the amount of tobacco, rather than the number of cigarettes, are calculated as smoking 40 cigarettes for every ounce of tobacco (36 cigarettes for every 25 grammes).

If the informant can only give a weekly amount, 1/7 of the weekly amount is coded at Q3 and Q4.

Q5 If any multi-coding occurs the codes are treated as if in priority order.

Q6 Interviewers coded the brand of cigarettes usually smoked from the "BRAND CHECK LIST" which follows.

All answers are recoded from X as follows:

Code 199: Cigarettes which are stated to have a low tar level; where all cigarettes for a particular brand name are of low tar level eg Consulate (nes).

Code 299: Cigarettes which are stated to have a low to middle tar level; where all cigarettes for a particular brand name are of low to middle tar level eg Piccadilly (nes).

Code 399: Cigarettes which are stated to have a middle tar level.

Code 777: Informant smokes no regular brand or smokes other people's cigarettes and no usual brand given.

Code 888: Where insufficient detail has been given to code elsewhere, eg Benson and Hedges (nes), or where two brands smoked equally of different tar levels.

Code 999; No answer.

TYPE OF DRINK. Answers are recoded into the drink categories as follows.

Shandy	excludes bottled or canned shandy
Beer/Lager etc.	Exports, Heavy, Black and Tan; Barley wine, Diabetic beer, Pommagne, Scrumpy; excludes non alcoholic lagers such as Barbican, Kaliber.
Spirits or liqueurs.	Cocktail, Egg Flip; Campari; Snowball, Bacardi, Pernod, Sloe gin, Pimms, Bourbon; Tequila, all liqueurs
Sherry/martini etc	Noilly Prat, Bianco, Ginger Wine (Stones, Crabbies), Tonic Wine, Scots Mac (and similar wines fortified with spirits)
Wine	Moussec, Babycham, Punch, Mead,excludes non-alcoholic wine such as Eisberg

NB Home brewed drinks are recoded to the appropriate category

FREQUENCY If multi-coding occurs, particularly when drinks are recoded from "any other alcoholic drinks" into a category, the highest frequency is accepted, the other(s) deleted

Q7 QUANTITY The amount drunk on any one day is coded as 2 digits for each drink category The following instructions are applied to convert amounts of drink into units of alcohol and then into codes

	Code
1/2 pint beer/stout/lager/cider .. . .. = 1 unit =	01
Includes up to 1 pint Shandy (assuming 1/2 pint beer, 1/2 pint lemonade)
1 single (1/5th or 1/6th gill) measure of all spirits (including liqueurs) . . = 1 unit =	01
1 glass (2 fluid ozs) Sherry/Martini etc = 1 unit =	01
1 glass (4-4 1/2 fluid ozs) wine . = 1 unit =	01

General notes on coding the amount

1. The coding of amount represents units of alcohol ie 1 UNIT = 9 gms alcohol = code 01.

2. If the amount drunk is less than one unit eg 1/2 pint Shandy (assuming 1/4 pint beer and 1/4 pint lemonade) it is treated as one unit = code 01; Teaspoon of Brandy (for medicinal purposes) = code 01.

3. Other fractions of units are rounded up eg 1 1/2 glasses of Sherry = 2 units = code 02; 1 1/2 pints of Shandy = code 02.

4. If ranges are recorded the highest amount is coded eg 3-4 pints of beer = 8 units = code 08.

5. In the amount varies so much that the interviewer was unable to get a usual amount, the amount drunk most frequently is coded, or, failing that, as a last resort the highest amount drunk on one day is coded.

6. Similarly, if different amounts are given of different drinks within a category, the amount which relates to the frequency code is coded, but if the frequency is the same the highest amount drunk is coded.

Specific notes on coding amounts of different drinks

Amounts of beer/lager etc

1 Cans of beer/lager etc Small approx 1/2 pt (9 2/3 fl oz) = 1 unit = code 01
Large approx 3/4 pt (15 5 fl oz) = 2 units = code 02

If 'can' is recorded and no further details, the 1/2 pt size is assumed
If 2 'large' cans = 03, if 3 'large' cans = 05; if 4 'large' cans = 06 etc

2 Bottles of beer/lager Small (9 2/3 fl oz) = 1 unit = code 01

If 'bottle' is recorded and no further details the 1/2 pt size is assumed

3 Litre/'flagon' of cider/beer. approx 1 3/4 pts = 4 units = code 04.

4 Barley wine/very strong ales· approx 1/3 pt bottles = 1 unit = code 01
NB A 'Nip' can be used to describe (1/3 pt) bottle of barley wine

5 330 mls = 13 fl ozs = 2 units
440 mls = 2 units

Amounts of Spirits/liqueurs

1 1 single = 1/5 gill (Scotland) or 1/6 gill (England & Wales) = 1 unit = code 01
Treated as 1 single are a 'half' (term used in Scotland), a 'nip', or a 'tot'

2 1 double = 2/5 gill (Scotland) or 1/3 gill (England & Wales) = 2 units = code 02
Treated as a double are 'large' measures of spirits

3 A bottle of all spirits = 26 2/3 fl ozs.

1 fluid oz = 1 UNIT

Therefore 1 bottle = 27 units = code 27
1/2 bottle = 13 1/2 units = code 14
1/4 bottle = 7 units = code 07

4 A miniature bottle is treated as 2 units = code 02

5 A gill of all spirits = 1/4 pt = 5 fluid ozs = code 05

Therefore 3/4 gill = 3 3/4 units = code 04
1/2 gill = 2 1/2 units = code 03
1/4 gill = 1 1/4 units = code 02
1/5 gill = 1 unit = code 01

NB 1/6 gill (single in England and Wales) is also treated as 1 unit = code 01

6. Teaspoons/tablespoons 4 teaspoons = 1 tablespoon

1 British measuring tablespoon = 1/32 imperial pint

Treated as 1 single up to 4 teaspoons or 1 tablespoon

7 Cocktails A single measure is assumed (1 unit = code 01) unless further details are given

Amounts of Sherry, Martini etc

1. A schooner/large glass = 2 units = code 02.

2. 1 bottle sherry/port = 26 2/3 fl ozs.

   1 bottle Martini/Vermouth 75 cls = 3/4 litre = 26.4 fl ozs.

   2 fluid oz = 1 UNIT

   Therefore 1 bottle = 13 1/2 units = code 14
   1/2 bottle = 7 units = code 02

Amounts of Wine

1 1 glass = 4-4 1/2 fluid ozs = 1 unit = code 01

2. 1 standard bottle = 1 x 70 cl/or 75 cl bottle wine = approx. 6 glasses = 6 units

   Therefore 1/2 bottle = 3 units = code 03
   1/3 bottle = 2 units = code 02
   1/4 bottle = 1 1/2 units = code 02

   If the size of bottle is not recorded, standard size is assumed.

3. 1 litre bottle = 35.2 fl ozs = approx 8 glasses = 8 units

   Therefore 1/2 bottle = 4 units = code 04
   1/3 bottle = 2 2/3 units = code 03
   1/4 bottle = 2 units = code 02

4. A carafe of wine = 1 standard bottle = 6 units.

5. 1 pint of wine = 20 fl ozs = approx 5 glasses = 5 units

   Therefore 1/2 pint = 2 1/2 units = code 03, etc.

6. Babycham - 1 bottle (3 1/2 fl ozs) = 1 UNIT = code 01.

7. Cans of wine = 25 cl = 2 units = code 02.

Family Informa

Q8 Q6 refers to how often informants drink each particular group of drink, but not how often they drink anything at all. This question obtains more information about informants' overall frequency of drinking.

Discrepancies between Q8 and Q6 are accepted even if the answers seem contradictory.

Q9 This is an opinion question and therefore the answer the informant gives is accepted

Interviewers were instructed not to tell the informants the recommended amounts before they had answered the question.

FAMILY INFORMATION

General Points

1. Missing Information: No answers, which include DKs, refusals and omissions, are not permissible at some questions. Unless obtainable from a spouse's/cohabitee's schedule, the answers are imputed by using information from elsewhere on the questionnaire and random selection if all else fails. If there is sufficient missing information to render the whole section invalid then Q3 is recoded to 99 and subsequent information deleted; Q3 is recoded 98 if there is sufficient missing information to render marital history invalid.

2. 'No Answers' to dates: In the absence of better information 06 is used for month and the year imputed (as described above) except at Q10(c) where NA code 99 is used.

3. Checking Dates: When dates are imputed they are checked by the edit to ensure that they make sense eg a divorce date is not later than a subsequent marriage; sufficient months lie between the births of children.

The notes which follow will refer to the question numbers on the white questionnaire where the questions are asked by the interviewer. The same notes will apply to the equivalent questions on the self-completion questionnaires, unless specific differences occur. These will be indicated.

Q4

Included in precode 1 is any religious ceremony (Christian or otherwise) whether performed in a place of worship or not.

Included in precode 2 is any civil ceremony.

If both a civil and religious ceremony (but not merely a blessing) were performed precode 3 is used.

If not answered and it is clear that precode 4 does not apply, code 9 is used.

It is acceptable to have precode 4 ringed yet be described as widowed, divorced or separated in the household box. These cases are manually scrutinised during the edit process to eliminate clerical error. Q6 is then coded 8.

Qs 6 & 7

These questions are not asked on the self-completion questionnaire for widowed, divorced and separated. If Q4 is coded 4, Q6 is coded 8 at the edit.

INCOME

The Income section in 1992/93 has been redesigned and simplified.

For the first time there is also a question about total net income on the proxy schedule (Income Q11)

To reduce missing data the interviewer asks the informant to estimate from the income bands on a card if the person doesn't know the amount at the following questions.

Q7 (take home pay); Q8 (income tax and national insurance deducted), Q9 (gross earnings), Q13 (self-employed earnings), Q25 (c) and (d) (interest and dividends). The weekly and monthly income bands and codes are given on page 51d

General points

A total absence of income information (whether through refusal or any other reason) is denoted by code 0 at Q1

Absence of information at particular questions in the income section is dealt with mainly in 4 ways -

i Code 3 is used at the main question if the informant refuses to answer the question

ii An existing precode is used, so eliminating "no answers" at that question

iii. A specific "no answer" code is used.

iv No answer (-8) is allowed as a final resort if it is impossible to deduce the information eg Q1(a)

Q1(a) In general, in the informant is eligible for a benefit but has not yet received it, he/she is treated as not receiving that benefit unless he knows exactly how much it will be and that it will be backdated.

Child Benefit

If Child Benefit is not shown it is assumed that eligible families with more than one child receive this benefit, but not if only one child

Income Support

All Income Support is coded on the husband's schedule only, unless he is on strike or in prison, in which case it can appear on the wife's schedule

The amount should exclude any housing benefit

For informants on Employment Training receiving Income Support and a training allowance, the total, including the allowance, is coded

NI Retirement pension etc

If the wife's allowance has been included with her husband's and she is 60 or over, her allowance is transferred to her schedule, otherwise it remains part of her husband's income.

Unemployment Benefit

This includes payment made to fishermen in bad weather.

ECQ1(a) A check is made with Employment Q7. Informants unemployed for over a year do not receive Unemployment Benefit - they are recoded to Income Support. Similar recoding takes place in the informant has never worked.

For informants on Employment Training who receive an allowance as well as Unemployment Benefit, the total including the allowance is coded.

NI Sickness Benefit

Statutory sick pay is excluded.

Disability Living Allowance

This is coded on the schedule of the person receiving it unless that person is aged under 16 in which case it is coded on an adult's schedule, usually the mother's.

Q2(a) Family Credit

A couple with children can claim Family Credit if either partner is in work of at least 16 hours per week.

Widows Pension etc

If a widow aged 60 or over says she is receiving Widow's Pension it is accepted - it is not back coded to NI Retirement pension.

Attendance Allowance

ECQ2(a) If the informant is aged under 65 it is recoded Disability Living Allowance.

Any other type of benefit

This includes such benefits as -
Child's Special Allowance; Guardian's allowance; Industrial Death benefit; Maternity allowance; War Dependents pension (excluding War Widows' Pension which is coded 02); Pneumoconiosis, Byssinosis and Miscellaneous diseases benefits; Workmen's Compensation Supplement; YT bridging allowance.

Excluded as Income (from Qs 1-2 and elsewhere in the section)

A windfall or other lump sum payment is not treated as income. This includes redundancy payments and death grants, inheritances or capital gains, maturing insurances (other than annuities). Death grant, maternity grant, widow's benefit and social fund payments are likewise excluded, as are Housing Benefit and Community Charge rebate.

Q3(a) Occupational pension from former employer(s) Code 01

Employer's pensions are not restricted to retirement pensions, but include any sort of pension from an employer, including the Forces ie any payment made for the rest of the informant's life Included here are regular payments from an employer for early retirement, pensions from current employer, pensions from foreign employer

Occupational pension from spouse's former employer Code 02

Included are pensions from cohabitee's former employer, pension from former husband's employer where informant has remarried, pension from widow's and orphan's fund

Private pensions or annuities code 03

Includes pensions from Trade Unions and Friendly Societies, and from private insurance schemes, annuities, and payments from a trust or covenant

Note A pension from the NHS scheme for self-employed doctors/dentists may be coded 01 or 03

Government training scheme code 05

Excludes Employer based YT (this is shown at Qs 7-9) and ET which is coded at Q1(a) codes 02 or 04.

Q3(b) If net is not known or not answered and gross is given, net is calculated by assuming tax is paid at 25%

Q3(c) If gross is not known or not answered and net is given, gross is calculated by assuming tax is paid at 25%.

ECQ3(c) Gross is checked to ensure that it is greater than or equal to net at Q3(b)

Q4(a)

Code 01 Educational grant

Includes training grants or payments from a scholarship to the informant (not his children), student travel grants, book grants

Excludes tuition fees, Access funds (housing benefit)

Code 02 Regular payments from friends or relatives outside the household

Includes payment from a current spouse who is not a member of the household (for example, a husband working and living away from home), regular payments by sons or daughters to elderly parents' and parental contributions to students (provided that the parents are not members of the household)

Code 03 Rent from property or subletting

Rent from property should be the amount which is actually assessed for tax purposes.

Excludes rent from members of the same household eg boarder, lodger, adult child.

Code 04 Maintenance, alimony or separation allowance

Included are maintenance for self or children, alimony or separation allowance from an ex-spouse or former partner; maintenance payments from the father of the child (not an ex-husband); paternity payment for a single parent family.

Only maintenance which is currently being received is included. Where payments have stopped or never been received, despite a court order, it is treated as 'not receiving'.

Q4(b) Should the maximum digits permissible be exceeded it is recoded eg £100,000 is recoded £99,999.98.

Qs 6-9 General points

"Usual" pay is subjective, so in general the informant's answer is accepted However, the following points are taken into account

1 Where the informant does not earn a usual amount an average amount is acceptable.

2 Similarly where the pay varies regularly eg alternate weeks, the average amount is coded.

3. If the informant is currfently off sick - if sick for less than 6 months, usual pay relates to their pay when actually working, if sick for 6 months or more, the reduced pay they now receive is coded

4 If the informant is currently on short time the usual pay when not on short time is coded, unless short time has lasted for 6 months or more in which case the pay they now receive is coded

5 For seasonal workers, the usual amount earned in the current season is coded

6 If the informant has recently had a pay rise, the usual pay at the new rate is coded

7 If the informant has already started a new job but has not yet been paid, the amount he will receive is coded.

8 Money earned abroad or paid by foreign countries is accepted, and converted into £s as necessary for take home pay and gross pay, 0 at Q8 is accepted, otherwise Q8 is recoded 9 and Q8(a) coded 99

Q6 Qs 6-9 are examined as a whole and recoding takes place as follows at Q6:-

Refusal/NA to all pay details at Qs 7-9 9

No pay received/nil earnings 0

Includes Family workers who do not get paid and informants who have a job as an employee but receive no pay because of illness, study leave.

Otherwise the time period at Q6 is recoded, if necessary, as follows:-

One week 1

Two weeks/fortnightly 2

Three weeks 3

Four weeks 4

Calendar month 5

13 weeks/quarter/3 months 6

26 weeks/6 months 7

One year/annually 8

Code 1: includes less than one week.

Time periods not covered by the coding frame eg 5 weeks are adjusted to one which is catered for and the amounts recalculated as necessary.

Similarly should the amounts recorded exceed the number of digits permissible (see Master) the time period is adjusted and the amounts recalculated accordingly.

Q7 This is usual take home pay after all deductions ie not just tax and national insurance, but after superannuation, AVCs, union subscription, sports club, charity deductions etc.

If the informant cannot estimate take home pay or it is omitted but gives an actual amount for gross at Q9 main, then take home pay is imputed using the basic calculation -

Take home = Gross - (Tax plus National Insurance)

In the absence of more accurate information the deductions are imputed as follows:-

Tax is calculated at 25% on earnings above personal or age allowances.

NI is calculated at 7% of earnings (within earnings and age limits) ie an average of contracted in and contracted out schemes.

Q7(a) If informants do not know their usual take home pay, they are asked to estimate it from Card M The weekly and monthly income bands and codes are given overleaf.

If they are unable to estimate, code 99 is used (unless an actual amount is given at Q9 main in which case take home pay is imputed - see above)

Q8 Entries are accepted even though they may appear unlikely

Tax and NI is never imputed - if only the actual gross is given, take home pay is imputed and Q8 coded 9 and Q8(a) coded 99

Q9 If the informant cannot estimate gross pay or if it is omitted but an actual amount is given for take home pay at Q7 main, then gross pay is imputed using the basic calculation -

Gross = take home + tax and NI

See Q7 for further notes on calculations.

ECQ9 Gross is checked to ensure that it is greater than or equal to the sum of take home pay plus tax and NI. discrepancies of less than £10 are accepted, otherwise gross is amended to the sum of take home pay plus tax and NI.

ECQ9(a) Estimated gross is checked against the sum of estimated take home pay (Q7(a)) plus estimated tax and NI (Q8(a)) if the sum is within the band, or if the sum of the minimum or maximum within the band is discrepant by less than £10, the estimate is accepted, otherwise the gross estimate is amended to the minimum code that would be applicable

Q11(b)&(c) The amounts should be actual money income shares, vouchers, income in kind etc are excluded

If the informant has changed jobs in the last year, any bonuses from previous jobs are excluded

Q13 If the informant has been self-employed for less than 12 months, the interviewer should have obtained an estimate of what the annual profit is likely to be. If this was not possible or it is obvious from Q14 that the amount refers to a period of less than 12 months, the amount of profit made so far is grossed up to an annual equivalent.

If the informant is self-employed within a partnership the answer at Q13 refers to the informant's share of the business only.

Profits ploughed back into the business are included in the net profit.

Q15 If Q15 is refused, code 3 is used.

If Q15 is blank and the informant is over retirement age, code 2 is used; otherwise Q15 is coded 9.

Q15(a) If this is refused, code 9999 is used.

Don't Knows and NAs are recoded as follows:-

(i) if there is a note that the informant pays Class 2 only or Class 2 and Class 4, the amount is calculated, using the current rate of Class 2 and the rate applying for the dates at Q14 for Class 4.

(ii) if the type of NI contribution is not noted, a check is made with Q13 main to establish whether or not the informant makes enough profit to pay Class 2 and Class 4 or Class 2 only, and an assessment is made accordingly.

(iii) if there is insufficient information to make an assessment, or if Q13 is coded 9, the NA code 9999 is used.

If the informant has been self-employed for less than 12 months, the figure is the amount of NI paid so far.

Q24 Personal Equity Plans (PEPs) were introduced to encourage more people to buy UK company shares. Investors can invest in different kinds of shares in a scheme which is usually managed on their behalf.

Anyone aged 18 or over and a UK resident can invest in a PEP.

Q24(a) Code 03 includes: Investing in a group of companies by selecting a specified number of holdings from a range of stocks or shares and thus choosing which companies to invest in.

Also included is any PEP which is a combination plan eg combination of a group of companies and a unit trust plan.

Multicoding can occur if a person has taken out a different type of PEP each year.
