EXPENDITURE CODES

Explanatory Notes

See Section 1, Part 3 - Database Definitions - for definitions of terms used

Expenditure codes

In the Family Expenditure Survey, information about expenditure is collected at a detailed level. It is collected through both the diary (which respondents fill in daily for a fortnight) and through the Household Questionnaire.

Items of expenditure are assigned a six digit code which represents the type of expenditure (the code might represent 'bread', 'mortgage payments' or 'visits to the cinema', for example). These six digit codes are listed in Part 1 of this section - Expenditure Codes : Summary. There are 14 main categories of expenditure, which are:

- .01 Housing
- .02 Fuel, light and power
- .03 Food
- .04 Alcoholic drinks
- .05 Tobacco
- .06 Clothing and footwear
- .07 Household goods
- .08 Domestic and paid services
- .09 Personal goods and services
- .10 Motoring expenditure
- .11 Travel and non-motor vehicle expenses
- .12 Leisure goods
- .13 Entertainment, education, holidays, betting
- .14 Savings, investments, money transfers, credit

Part 2 of this section - Expenditure Codes : Detail - is the 'data dictionary'. It gives an indication of the types of items to be found under each expenditure code, but it should be remembered that the list is not exhaustive.

The flow diagram in Section 1 of the User Documentation gives a useful outline of the flow of data between the different parts of the dataset. It indicates the tables in which expenditure codes are used.

The expenditure code can be used as either a row label or a column label within the dataset. This is explained further below.

The six-digit code used as a 'value'

When the diary data is entered into the computer, each item purchased is allocated a code. The lists in this section of the User Documentation show the codes in the form which emphasises the hierarchical nature of the codes. However, when the codes are entered into the computer they are entered simply as which is how they appear in the database.

AB.CD.EF

These codes define 'rows' within certain tables (e.g. SET114): that is, the codes don't represent variables in their own right but 'values' within variables. The row might show the person number, the expenditure code and the amount spent on that item, for instance. Where this is the case, the expenditure codes effectively represent a 'coding frame' and as such they are included, as appropriate, in the raw table definitions in Section 2, Part 1 of the User Documentation.

In SET89 variables from the questionnaire are also allocated an expenditure code and are combined with the diary data. This includes expenditure through loans and hire purchase recorded in the Household Questionnaire. To avoid duplication, diary items that are also covered in the questionnaire do not go through to SET89 but are re-directed to SET900 and are not used in any further tables.

The six-digit d-code used as a variable

In some derived tables, the expenditure codes define columns within the table and then the six-digit code is pre-fixed 'd'. Here the codes represent variables in their own right. Therefore, the d-codes are included in User Documentation Section 3 - The Derived Database.
