CHANGES TO CODING FRAMES - JANUARY 1997 TO JANUARY 1998

A1 & A1(2) - Country codes

Eritrea new code 4840 from January 1997.

USSR (code 3080) removed from the list in February 1997.

Maldives originally included in code 4830. Given a separate new code 4850 from January 1998.

Also from January 1998, new code 9960 for Q1 Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of China passport.

A2 & A3 - County/Unitary Authority/London Borough & Town codes

From January 1997, all county/unitary authority/London Borough codes and town codes were changed. All county/unitary authority/London Borough codes (originally 2 digits) were extended to 3 digits to allow for the increase in regions being classified. Town codes (originally 3 digits) were extended to 5 digits.

English county/ua codes started from 000. Welsh county/ua codes started from 300, and Scottish county/ua codes from 500. The first 3 digits of each town code related to the county/ua with the exception of London (borough codes 066-097 but town code 77777) and Northern Ireland ('county' code 600 but all towns coded 99993). Other new codes were: Don't know county 999, Don't know London Borough 998, Don't know town 99999. Don't know town in England, Scotland, Wales were recoded respectively 99992, 99994, 99995, and Nights spent travelling recoded 99997.

The A2 and A3 have been extended to include extra towns, but there are NO NEW CODES.

At Q7, the 'states/provinces' coding frames for 1997 were:

A4 USA, A5 France, A6 Germany, A7 Italy.

For 1998, the coding frames are:

S1 Canada, S2 Spain, S3 Sweden, S4 Japan.

B & B3 - Airport codes

From April 1997, Kiev airport had 2 separate codes:

Kiev (Zhulyany) Ukraine IEV = 32201

Kiev (Borispol) Ukraine KBP = 32202 = new code.

From August 1997, there was a new French airport code:

Dump code for Mid-Pyrenees airports (including Rodez) = 07129.

From October 1997, there was a new airport code for Eritrea:

Dump code for Eritrean airports (including Asmara and Assab) = 48490.

From January 1998:

New Zealand Don't know airport = 51090 (was originally 50190).

Dump code for airports in Maldiv Islands (including Male) = 48590.

Burbank California BUR = 81051 (listed with Los Angeles LAX in B3 which is already coded 81051).

Yemen airports are covered by 57601 = Sanaa (as before), and 57690 = all other airports. Code 55690 is discontinued (former code for South Yemen airports).

Some airports have been found to be listed under the wrong code in the B3, and have been amended from January 1998.

France: St. Etienne is in 07189, not 07199.

Greece: Lemnos and Chios are in 22059 (other islands), not 22019 (mainland).

Slovakia: Kosice is in code 30490, not 30390 (Czech Republic).

Russia: Petropavlovsk-Kamchats is in code 30969 (Long. 140-159), not 30949 (Long. 100-119).

Kazakhstan: Karaganda is in code 31590, not 30929 (Russia Long. 60-79).
Semipalatinsk is in code 31590, not 30939 (Russia Long. 80-99).

Ukraine: Donetsk is in code 32290, not 30919 (Russia Long. 40-59).

Uzbekistan: Samarkand is in code 32390, not 30929 (Russia Long. 60-79).

Papua New Guinea: Buka is in code 53090, not 54090 (Solomon Islands).

India: Navsari is in code 61008, not region 61013.
Kanpur is in code 61018, not region 61015.
Udaipur is in code 61016, not region 61015.

Japan: Sakata is in code 62029, not region 62019.

St. Vincent and other islands of the Grenadines: Union Island (Grenadines) was wrongly listed in the B3 under Barbados 70590. From January 1998, it was incorrectly recoded to Grenada and associated islands 70990. It will be corrected to St. Vincent/etc = 71390 in the May codes. This confusion came about because Canouan Island (Grenadines) was also wrongly listed in the B3 under Grenada. It too will be corrected to 71390 in the May codes.

I have checked all 70990's at Q72 and Q77 in the data from January 1998, and there are no corrections required.

Notes Definition of extra codes for Heathrow and Gatwick.

Heathrow Transits

At the Heathrow Interchange, passengers in transit between Domestic and International Terminals are coded 61, 62, 63, or 64 according to which LHR International Terminal No.1, 2, 3, 4 they are departing from/arriving at.

Port Health LHR 3/4

Port Health codes describe the type of shift and not the type of contact.

ORD - Codes 09 and 12 should be used at the Port Health channel for ordinary arrival shifts.

MFS - Codes 08 and 11 should be used at the Port Health channel for migration filter shifts which include the other channels too.

ONLY - Codes 44 and 45 should be used for Port Health Only shifts.

Migration Filter

Codes 10 and 13 refer to all passengers entering through channels other than PH during migration filter shifts at Heathrow Terminals 3 & 4 respectively.

Codes 14-17 at Heathrow Terminals 1 & 2 and Gatwick Nth & Sth apply to all passengers on migration filter shifts.

Codes 08-17, 44-47 apply to minimums and non-respondents as well as to respondents.

Codes 01-07 and 43 should not be used on PH channels or on the arrivals of a migration filter shift unless specifically instructed.

SAT	51	92	22	74	40	14	90	76	32	48	37	24

Notes: These random numbers are for use on all sea routes and at residual airports.

Set the clicker at the number given for the month and day of week according with your shift date. The first selection is the first number after that which is divisible by the sample interval.

Example: Saturday in April - random start = 74

Interval = 10	First selection = 80	Second selection = 90
Interval = 20	First selection = 80	Second selection = 100
Interval = 25	First selection = 75	Second selection = 100
Interval = 33	First selection = 100	Second selection = 133

For crossings, continue the count on the return journey - do not reset the clicker. Team leaders must make a note on the Daily Return of the clicker numbers at the end of the outward count.

At quaysides, use separate clicker counts for Departures and Arrivals. Continue the count across all Departures and likewise across all Arrivals.
