THE RAW DATABASE

Explanatory Notes

See Volume 1, Part 3 - Database Definitions - for definitions of terms used

The raw database

This section of the User Documentation describes the raw database. The raw database contains data 'as it was received'. That is, before any calculations or aggregations have been carried out.

The document is in four parts, as outlined below.

Part 1 - Raw table definitions in table name order

This part of the document can be used to look up details of the variables and coding frames when the table name is known. The following information is given for each table:

Table name: the name of the table as given in the database

Table comments: a brief description of the table

Sort key and sort key description: variables that are needed to uniquely define a row within the table (these were not listed separately from other variables in the 1993 database)

Variable name, description and coding frame: a list of the variables (in addition to the sort keys) that are contained within the table along with the coding frame used (if applicable)

Coding frame name and description: a list of the permitted values and their meanings for each coding frame used within the table

Parts 2 - 4 : Raw variable lists

These three lists allow details of a variable (such as the table in which it is found, or the question to which it relates) to be looked up if the variable name (Part 2 - ordered by variable name), variable description (Part 3 - ordered by variable description) or question number (Part 4 - ordered by question reference) is known. The following information is contained in each list (the order in which this information is given depends on the ordering of the list):

Variable name: the database name of the variable

Variable description: a brief description of the variable

Question reference: the question number relating to the variable, as contained within the Household (if pre-fixed by H) or Income (if pre-fixed by I) Questionnaire. If a number does not appear in this column, one of the following will appear:

- 'diary' if the variable relates to diary data
- 'sort key' if the variable is a sort key (see above)
- 'system' if the variable is a system variable used only for editing purposes (and therefore probably not of use to users of the database).

person	This person-level table contains data for all persons. It records such things as sex, age, marital status, relationship to other household members, educational status of adults (dvage > 15), school type for children (dvage < 16) and whether a person is a spender or not. For the first time and w.e.f the 1998/99 survey, it is not possible to distinguish between children and adults by the variable 'PERSNO'. Prior to 1998/99 adults had person numbers in the range 1-10 and children had person numbers from 11 upwards. From 1998/99, the variable 'PERSONCOPY' in the derived dataset (table 'SETPCP') will identify a person as an adult or child. The calculation of 'PERSONCOPY' for children is PERSNO + 100 e.g a child with a person number of 6 would have a value of 106 in 'PERSONCOPY'. Adult values for 'PERSONCOPY' will be between 1 and 14.
