BRITISH SOCIAL ATTITUDES 2011
DOCUMENTATION OF # THE BLAISE QUESTIONNAIRE

Notes:

1.      This is a documentation of the Blaise program. Not all variables that appear here are on the SPSS file. (Those that are not are marked with a '$'). Similarly, not all derived variables that are on the SPSS file are mentioned here. See also separate documentation of derived variables.

2.      Unless otherwise specified, 'Don't Know' is code 8 for single column questions, code 98 for two column questions, and so on.

3.      Unless otherwise specified, 'Refusal/Not answered' is code 9 for single column questions, code 99 for two column questions, and so on. Where there is an explicit 'Refusal' code (usually code 7 or 97), then code 9 (or 99 and so on) is reserved for 'Not answered' only.

4.      Sections in brackets and italics were textfilled as appropriate on the interviewers' computers.

5.      Routeing instructions appear above the questions. A routeing instruction should be considered to stay in force until the next routeing instruction.

6.      '(NOT ON SCREEN)' means that the question did not appear on the interviewers' or editors' screens. '(EDIT ONLY)' means it appeared on screen for the editors but not the interviewers. Individual codes marked 'EDIT ONLY' were used by the editors to reclassify 'other' answers.

        CARD F9
        Some migrants coming to Britain are refugees claiming asylum in Britain after leaving countries where they have faced persecution.
        Some people argue that it is a good thing to accept these asylum seekers because (providing a refuge for people at risk is the right thing to do / they may be harmed if they are returned to their country of origin).
        Some people argue it is a bad thing to accept these asylum seekers because (it is too expensive to provide support to them / most of their claims are not genuine / they are unable to integrate into British society).
        On a scale of 0 to 10, where 0 is extremely bad, and 10 is extremely good, please tell me whether you think it is a good thing or a bad thing to accept asylum seekers?
0       0 - Extremely bad
1       1
2       2

Q861    [QuitRule] *
        CARD L7
        It has been suggested that sometimes voters should be able to force their local MP to resign and fight a by-election. First of all, say that the MP has broken the rules. How much do you agree or disagree that in those circumstances voters should be able to force their MP to resign? Please choose a phrase from the card.

        The next question is about the House of Lords rather than the House of Commons.

        Some people say that having appointed members brings valuable expertise to the House of Lords. Other people argue that members of the House of Lords should be elected for it to be democratic. Which of the statements
