4	DETAILS OF CHANGES TO SHOW CARDS.....	51
----------	--	-----------

1 Summary

This booklet describes the main changes which have been made to the 2012/13 FRS questionnaire.

The changes have been made to meet the changing information needs of policy makers for example to reflect the changes in benefit recipient rules. Changes have also been made to improve the survey by acting on suggestions made by interviewers in the last survey year, via the Field Report, telephone and e-mail and also through suggestions made during briefings.

Further to this there have been some major changes to the questionnaire for 2012/13 as the result of the inclusion of questions originally asked on the General Lifestyle Survey (GLF). As this survey has now ceased the some of the questions asked on this survey have been transferred to FRS. These questions are used for the Statistics on Income and Living Conditions (also known as EU-SILC) and by required by European law. Where possible we have identified these questions with the following 'EURO-STAT requirement'.

When at all possible, suggested changes are made and these are acknowledged in the Guide to Changes. Sometimes it is not possible to act on suggested changes, for example if the suggested change will:

- create inconsistencies with other surveys, for example where the change will affect a harmonised question;
- increase the length of the questionnaire;
- conflict with information needs of FRS data users;
- have a negative effect on other parts of the survey.

Thank you to all the interviewers who worked on the 2011/12 FRS. We hope you continue to enjoy working on the survey.

EmpContr

Which of the following best describes your employment contract in your main job is it

1. ... a permanent job (contract of unlimited duration),
2. ... Fixed term or temporary job (work contract of limited duration),
3. ... work without a contract,
4. or some other working arrangement?

HELP SCREEN: INTERVIEWER: Respondents who have a contract to do their job, which may be renewed, for example, once a year, should be coded according to whether or not the respondents themselves consider their job to be of an unlimited duration.

If the respondent has a contract which finishes automatically at the end of a probationary period, and requires a new contract if the person continues to be employed by the same employer, this should be coded as a temporary job.

If the respondent considers the job to be temporary this does not necessarily mean the contract is temporary. For example, someone working part-time while studying may intend to leave the part-time job when the studying is completed. This should only be coded as a temporary job if the contract is of fixed duration.

If EmpContr=2 'fixed tem or temporary job'

The text for the question asking for permission to re-contact respondents for the purpose of follow up studies has been changed. In particular it includes reference to the fact that responses to the FRS study maybe used to identify individuals.

A new question has also been added which is asking for permission to re-contact people to take part in the longitudinal aspect of the Survey of income and living standards (EU-SILC) which will be carried out by ONS and NISRA.

In addition to collecting the telephone number of those who agree to re-contact we will also be asking you collect an email address.

Respondents will be asked either the standard permission to re-contact question (Followup) or the EU-SILC question (SlcFup). Which question the respondent will be asked will be random.

FollowUp

Sometime in the future there may be a follow-up or a new study related to this one. Such a study would be agreed with the Department for Work and Pensions, but may be carried out on behalf of another organisation. To identify individuals for inclusion in this study responses to the full Family Resources Survey may be used.

Please inform the respondent that their contribution to the follow-up study is important and supported by DWP. It will help the Government understand how different sections of society are managing, so that it can plan for the future, assess the effects of policy changes and measure the state of the economy. As a token of thanks each adult respondent will receive a £10 voucher after completion of the follow-up study.
