The Centre for Longitudinal Studies (CLS) is an ESRC Resource Centre based at the Institution of Education. It provides support and facilities for those using the three internationally-renowned birth cohort studies: the National Child Development Study (1958), the 1970 British Cohort Study and the Millennium Cohort Study (2000). CLS conducts research using the birth cohort study data, with a special interest in family life and parenting, family economics, youth life course transitions and basic skills. The views expressed in this work are those of the author(s) (amend as necessary) and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Economic and Social Research Council. Introduction

The full National Child Development Study dataset includes a variety of geographical information which is available for analysis. These data are summarised below. However, much of this information is disclosive and is, consequently, only available via the CLS 'safe setting' / or under 'special licence' (<http://www.esds.ac.uk/orderingdata/specialLicence.asp>).

Information on region is, however, included with the NCDS data deposited with the UK Data Archive and available via the Economic and Social Data Service under the terms of the standard user undertaking. This note briefly summarises the data available.

Summary of NCDS Geographical information available for analysis

Sweep	Data includes:
PMS, NCDS1-3 (1958, 1965, 1968, 1974)	Region (Standard Region)* and local authority recorded for each survey element, eg: Parental, Medical Examination, School Questionnaire, Child assessments, Cohort Member Questionnaire
NCDS4 (1981)	Region (Standard Region)*, local authority, constituency, ward, enumeration district and postcode
	Information from the 1971 and 1981 UK Census Small Area Statistics (SAS) data from the 1971 and 1981 Census matched to the postcode of the address at interview in 1981 and to that of the reported address at age 16 (in 1974)
NCDD5-9 (1991, 2000, 2004, 2008, 2013)	Region (Standard Statistical Region, Government Office Region)*, local authority, constituency, ward, enumeration district, postcode, grid reference

* Only region data are available under the terms of the standard ESDS user undertaking. Other data is under 'special licence'

Further information about the geographical information available for NCDS is available on request from the Centre for Longitudinal Studies.

PMS and NCDS1-3 (Birth to Sixteen-years)

Region variables for PMS and NCDS1-3 are based on the Registrar General's Standard Region prior to 1965. (see 1 Davie R, Butler N, and Goldstein H (1972) From Birth to Seven. London, Longman in association with the National Children's Bureau)

They were derived by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies from relevant variables included on the NCDS dataset as indicated below.

PMS-NCDS3: Derivation of region variables

NCDDS4-9

Region codes for NCDS4-5 were derived from information on postcode of address at interview. Postcodes derived, confirmed or gathered during the relevant survey were checked as valid and accurate using appropriate software and 'region' variables were subsequently derived from look-up tables.

- NCDS4 - postcode checks and region look-up were undertaken on behalf of the National Children's Bureau by CACI International shortly after the 1981 follow-up. The region variable provided is based on Standard Statistical Regions.
- NCDS5 - postcode checks were undertaken by the Social Statistics Research Unit, City University shortly after the 1991 follow-up. The region look-up was undertaken by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies in 2005¹. It replaces an earlier version undertaken by the Social Statistics Research Unit, City University shortly after the 1991 follow-up. The region variables provided are based on Standard Statistical Regions and Government Office Regions.
- NCDS6 -postcode checks were undertaken by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies shortly after the 2000 follow-up. The region look-up was again undertaken by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies in 2005.² It replaces an earlier version undertaken also undertaken by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies shortly after the 2000 follow-up. The region variables provided are based on Standard Statistical Regions and Government Office Regions.
- NCDS7 -postcode checks were undertaken by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies shortly after the 2004 follow-up. The region variables provided are based on Standard Statistical Regions and Government Office Regions.
- NCDS8 -postcode checks were undertaken by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies shortly after the 2008 follow-up. The region variables provided are based on Standard Statistical Regions and Government Office Regions.
- NCDS9 -postcode checks were undertaken by the Centre for Longitudinal Studies shortly after the 2013 follow-up. The region variables provided are based on Standard Statistical Regions and Government Office Regions.

Government Office Regions (GORs) - Government Offices for the Regions were established across England in 1994. In 1996 the regions covered, known as Government Office Regions, became the primary classification for the presentation of regional statistics.

GORs are built up of complete counties/unitary authorities. Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland are not subdivided into GORs but are listed with them as regions in UK-wide statistical comparisons

Statistical Regions (SSRs) - Standard Statistical Regions (SSRs) were the primary classification for English regional statistics prior to the adoption of GORs. They are now rarely used.

The 8 SSRs are also based on whole administrative units, but do not have any administrative function. Most SSRs have the same names and boundaries as the GORs, although there are important differences.

See the appendix and/or <http://www.statistics.gov.uk/geography/gor.asp> for more information.

¹ The region look-up was based on the 'All Fields Postcode Directory' (AFPD) available from UKBorders <http://edina.ac.uk/ukborders/>.

² Again, the region look-up was based on the 'All Fields Postcode Directory' (AFPD) available from UKBorders <http://edina.ac.uk/ukborders/>.

The distribution of NCDS cohort members by SSRs and GORs is summarised below.

NCDDS4-9

Government Office Regions (GORs) - Government Offices for the Regions were established across England in 1994. In 1996 the regions covered, known as Government Office Regions, became the primary classification for the presentation of regional statistics.

GORs are built up of complete counties/unitary authorities so although they are subject to change they always reflect administrative boundaries as at the end of the previous year. Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland are not subdivided into GORs but are listed with them as regions in UK-wide statistical comparisons

Statistical Regions (SSRs) - Standard Statistical Regions (SSRs) were the primary classification for English regional statistics prior to the adoption of GORs. They are now rarely used.

The 8 SSRs are also based on whole administrative units, but do not have any administrative function. Most SSRs have the same names and boundaries as the GORs, but there are the following differences:

- The North SSR consists of the North East GOR together with Cumbria (which is part of the North West GOR).
- London does not exist as an SSR in its own right; instead it is part of the South East SSR.
- The East of England GOR does not exist as an SSR. Norfolk, Suffolk, Cambridgeshire and Peterborough form the East Anglia SSR; the rest of the GOR is part of the South East SSR.
- The Yorkshire and The Humber GOR covers the same area as the Yorkshire and Humberside SSR
